

OCT 1 1954

Admiral Robert B. Garney
Chief of Naval Operations
Department of the Navy
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mick:

STAT
Many thanks for your letter of September 29 suggesting [redacted] USN Retired, as someone who could make a valuable contribution to the work of CIA. From the background sketch you gave me, he seems to have eminent qualifications, and, like everyone else, I am always interested in such men. Our problem here, of course, is finding a job for a man of his seniority.

I want, however, to explore all possibilities; therefore, I am having my people [redacted] get in touch with him.

STAT

Thank you for bringing Admiral [redacted] name to my attention. I will keep you advised of the results.

Sincerely,

SMITH

Allen W. Dulles

STAT
O/DCI/[redacted]:jcp (22 Sept. 54)
STAT
Rewritten: O/DCI/[redacted]:ji (28 Sept. 54)
Rewritten: AWD:neo (30 Sept. 54)

Distribution:

Orig - Addressee
1 - DCI Chrono
1 - Exec. Registry
1 - Reading
1 - RWF Chrono
1 - AD/P - w/basic
1 - [redacted] Chrono

STAT

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
WASHINGTON, D. C.
OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR

Admiral Robert B. Carney
Chief of Naval Operations
Department of the Navy
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mick:

Many thanks for your letter of September 20 suggesting [redacted] USN Retired, as someone who could make a valuable contribution to the work of CIA. From the background sketch you gave me, he seems to be [redacted] eminent qualifications, and, like everyone else, I am always interested in such men. My one fear is that we do not have a position of [redacted] in the near future that is commensurate with his abilities.

I want, however, to explore all possibilities;
therefore, I am having my people [redacted] get STAT
in touch with him.

Thank you for bringing Admiral [redacted] name STAT to my attention. I will keep you advised of the results.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
Director